

Widening the net does not stop the attack; it declines real customers

